

Are you our future Business Analyst assisting in driving cultural initiatives and strategic projects?

Frey is looking for a top student with a challenger mindset and strong communication skills. If this is you, then this is your ticket to join Aarhus' coolest start-up and to gain responsibility and valuable experience from day 1.

Reporting straight to our People and Culture Partner, you will have a unique opportunity to become part of an exciting growth journey and touch upon several aspects of the business. Your main responsibilities will be supporting our People and Culture Partner via day-to-day tasks, but also assisting our CEO via surveys and analysis which will be used directly in the decision-making process with the whole leadership team. If you have the ambition and drive to make a difference, you will hit a steep learning curve, gain your own areas of responsibility, and become an important part of driving the cultural and strategic initiatives in Frey.

For the right candidate and subject to stellar performance, full-time employment is on the table after graduation.

Role and Responsibilities includes but are not limited to:

- Supporting and assist the People and Culture Partner and CEO on a daily basis
- Development of analysis, presentations, and material in relation to the strategic agenda of the company.
- Drive selected strategic projects from kick-off to delivery, including financial and strategic analysis, and implementation of improvement initiatives.
- Identify areas for improvement and pitch solutions.
- Ad hoc tasks.
- Can work at least 20 hours per week on a flexible schedule.

Expected Skills and Experience:

- You are well structured with a flair for marketing and communication.
- You are independent and ready to actively take responsibility and ownership.
- You are a master of PowerPoint and Excel.
- Have a challenger mindset and is ready to go the extra mile.
- You are enrolled in a relevant university level education and are about to initiate your masters.

Job start will be as soon as possible. We will be screening candidates on an ongoing basis.
